Important Warning! A message has been sent to us by Czech CZT printers for the compatibility issue we have found in 3.0.1 version. If your printer is connected to your computer by USB cable, and you don't switch off the printer after the print has been completed, the connection between the printer and the computer is not terminated and therefore, the computer remains in idle state. This can have serious consequences such as the CPU being left to run continuously, causing damage to your CPU. 5. Availability of 82157476af
